Procurement Graduate Opportunities

The Procurement Team works to secure the ingredients and inputs we need to operate safely, efficiently and profitably across many markets both regionally and globally. The demands on the procurement team are far-reaching: researching and analysing markets, understanding and drawing out insights, price risk and new sources of supply, negotiating the best deals with suppliers for ARYZTA, or working closely with end users to simplify and standardise what and how we buy.

Graduates may experience several areas within this function.

- Direct materials – work with our teams to develop deep understanding of the ingredients markets, for example flour, butter, sugar and cocoa.
- Capabilities – help us to continuously improve our performance through projects that deliver new ways of working and greater insight into our procurement performance.

We are looking for Graduates who are:

- Fluency in English and German language capability is a distinct advantage
- Team players
- Excellent people and communication skills
- Passion, integrity and an entrepreneurial spirit
- Strong attention to detail
- Desire to work in a dynamic FMCG environment
- Resilience
- Drive and determination to succeed
- Passion for good food

Role Locations: This role will be based in our Dublin office.
